

We are pleased to announce the association of Encompass Engineering & Surveying, Inc. and Baima & Holmberg, Inc. We have joined forces to blend the talents of both companies into a strong, competitive group of professional engineers and surveyors under Encompass Engineering & Surveying, Inc. (Encompass). With a professional staff having more than forty years of experience, Encompass offers comprehensive consulting services in civil engineering, land use planning, and land surveying in both Western and Eastern Washington. Our business and its reputation have been built on these basic principles:

- Our goal on every project extends beyond simply meeting requirements. We strive to deliver innovative, practical, and sustainable solutions.
- Our services are of professional quality.
- Projects are produced and delivered in a timely manner.
- Plans, specifications, and reports are accurately prepared and presented in a professional, organized, and thoroughly understandable manner.
- All principles are personally involved in the services provided for each client.

We believe that consistent investment in continuing education and equipment is paramount in keeping knowledgeable in all new technologies, which enables us to provide cost effective projects efficiently in a timely manner. With the latest, state-of-the-art technology and an experienced and dependable staff of engineers, surveyors, planners, and technicians, Encompass is capable of meeting the time scheduling demands of a variety of projects, responding quickly to client requests and producing superior quality projects. What differentiates us from other firms is our strong commitment to our clients in helping them achieve their full strategic and operational agendas. We assist municipalities, regional and federal governments, and private industries develop and manage infrastructure and facilities that improve efficiency, safety, and quality of life.
